Melatonin is a pineal hormone secreted by the pineal gland of the brain, mainly used to improve sleep and regulate the biological clock. At the same time, melatonin can also improve the immune status of the body. The increase of immunity after sleep improvement can prevent factors such as infectious diseases and colds, and can also improve the skin and have anti-aging effects, which can enhance immunity.

For some people with weakened immunity, melatonin can be used to regulate the biological clock, improve sleep, and enhance immunity. If there are people with insomnia, melatonin can also be used to adjust the sleep cycle and improve sleep. By improving sleep and adjusting the levels of neurotransmitters in the brain, it can slow down aging, enhance immunity, and avoid the occurrence of cardiovascular and cerebrovascular diseases and malignant tumors.
